

SVMBC Merit Badge Midway Policies and Procedures

- The Guide to Advancement section 3.0.0.1 establishes the Council Advancement Committee's (CAC) responsibilities to "Establish local practices for adhering to National Council advancement procedures at outdoor programs, summer camp, and events such as merit badge fairs or midways."
- The Council Advancement Committee has determined and approved these following policies and procedures to conduct a Merit Badge Midway. A Merit Badge Midway is defined as a planned and organized standalone event (not part of a District or Council Camporee) with the intent to offer one or more merit badge opportunities under the direction of more than one merit badge counselor to Scouts from 3 or more Scouting units. This policy and procedure does not apply to a single merit badge counselor offering a single merit badge to Scouts from more than one unit.
 - Examples:
 - A merit badge counselor wishing to offering a single merit badge to the Scouts in his unit and wanting to invite other units in the community may do so without having to submit a form.
 - More than one counselor organize an opportunity for more than one merit badge and choose to offer it to youth in 3 or more units would be required to follow this policy and submit an Application of Intent.

Goals:

- Fulfill the intent of the BSA merit badge program as outlined in the Guide to Advancement section 7.0.0.1 "There is more to merit badges than simply providing opportunities to learn skills. There is more to them than an introduction to lifetime hobbies, or the inspiration to pursue a career—though these invaluable results occur regularly. It all begins with a Scout's initial interest and effort in a merit badge subject, followed by a discussion with the unit leader or designated assistant, continues through meetings with a counselor, and culminates in advancement and recognition. It is an uncomplicated process that gives a Scout the confidence achieved through overcoming obstacles. Social skills improve. Self-reliance develops. Examples are set and followed. And fields of study and interest are explored beyond the limits of the school classroom."
- Ensure quality merit badge instruction from qualified merit badge counselors conforming to the Guide to Advancement section 7.0.1.0 about merit badge counselors and section 7.0.3.0 that outlines the process for counseling.
- Safeguard the integrity of the BSA advancement program. Merit badge events are foremost about the advancement experience and not a fundraising opportunity for a unit or other entity.

- The definition of a formal budget is an estimate of income and expenditure for a set period of time.
- All event income and expenses will be managed by the council staff under the council's normal accounting processes (not including any concession sales, if offered).
- Typical budget items may include, but are not limited to: Cost of registration, program supplies, office supplies, recognition items, facility rentals, bank processing fees, and electronic processing fees.

Advancement:

- Merit Badge Counselor (See GTA 7.0.1.1 Qualifications of Counselors):
 - All merit badge counselors will be verified that they are currently registered. The council service center staff will verify all in council merit badge counselors. The event chair or host will be responsible for verifying all out of council merit badge counselors. There must be enough merit badge counselors to service the number of participants and merit badges being offered. A list of merit badge counselors is available upon request.
- Merit Badge Group Instruction (See GTA 7.0.3.2 Group Instruction):
 - It is acceptable—and sometimes desirable—for merit badges to be taught in group settings. This often occurs at camp and merit badge midways, fairs, clinics, or similar events, and even online through webinars. These can be efficient methods, and interactive group discussions can support learning. Group instruction can also be attractive to “guest experts” assisting registered and approved counselors. Slide shows, skits, demonstrations, panels, and various other techniques can also be employed, but as any teacher can attest, not everyone will learn all the material. Because of the importance of individual attention and personal learning in the merit badge program, group instruction should be focused on those scenarios where the benefits are compelling.
 - There must be attention to each individual’s projects and fulfillment of all requirements as written. We must know that every Scout—actually and personally—completed them. If, for example, a requirement uses words like “show,” “demonstrate,” or “discuss,” then every Scout must do that. It is unacceptable to award badges on the basis of sitting in classrooms watching demonstrations, or remaining silent during discussions.
- Youth Protection Training:
 - All merit badge counselors must have current youth protection training.
 - All youth protection policies must be adhered to at the event.
- Selection of Merit Badges:
 - Merit Badges that are selected to occur at the event must be feasible to the proposed venue that they are occurring at.
 - Merit Badge class sizes are recommended to be no more than 10 participants to ensure each scout can meet all the merit badge requirements for the proposed badges. This is a guidance since some merit badges may require smaller class sizes, and some may be able to accommodate more.
 - Class times are recommended to be no more than 90 minutes to ensure each scout can meet all the merit badge requirements while holding the participants interest and attention.
 - All merit badge requirements must be completed as stated.
 - For Merit Badge Counselors seeking additional guidance on group instruction for merit badge classes please see GTA 7.0.3.2 Group Instruction.

- Pre-reqs:
 - Any pre-requirements that need to be completed prior to the event need to be established on the registration worksheet in order to be placed in the online registration system.
 - Any pre-requirements need to be communicated to participants well in advance of the event. This can be achieved through email or posting on website.
